

Figure 99. The circle of Willis and major branches of the vertebral-basilar and internal carotid arteries. The recurrent artery of Heubner, not shown, originates from the anterior cerebral artery and courses posterolaterally to enter the anterior perforated substance and supply the anteromedial portion of the basal ganglia and part of the anterior limb of the internal capsule